BIOGRAPHY

Prof. Jiafu Ji is internationally recognized for his expertise in surgical treatment for gastric cancer and related basic and clinical research. As a distinguished professor of gastrointestinal surgery, he is leading the effort to promote standardization of surgical procedures and development and application of neo-adjuvant chemotherapy for gastric cancer in China. His innovative training programs in the form of surgery demos and itinerant lectures have benefited thousands of Chinese surgeons. His current research focuses on integrated treatment of gastric cancer and its molecular mechanisms. He is the leading researcher of many domestic and international clinical trials. With unique vision, Prof. Ji also took the lead in constructing the biggest cancer biobank in China.
